

MIDDLE OF SEASON BRINGS REPORTS OF INCREASED BUSINESS

Fox Lake Holds Annual Lotus Festivity; Draws Crowds

With the time when the Lotus beds will be in full bloom not far distant, and the middle of the season here, an increase in the resort business is reported by most of the operators and cottage owners along the lake.

The blooming of the Lotus beds has brought increased activity especially to Fox Lake where the annual festival, opened Wednesday to continue through Saturday, yearly attracts cottage residents and hotel visitors to the area to see the Lotus in bloom and enjoy the vacationing period in this section.

Excursions Started

Excursions have already been seen on Lake, although the beds will not be in full glory until the last of the month.

Boats have already been started by the transportation companies both on Grand and Fox Lakes.

Whether the advertisement of the Lotus season is responsible for the increase in vacationists at lakes around Antioch the past two weeks cannot be accurately estimated. In several cases, it has been reported that visitors have come from Ohio, Indiana and other nearby states, anxious to see the lake region before returning home after a trip to the World's Fair.

Business last week, it was generally agreed by merchants and resort operators, showed a decided improvement. A number of visitors have been seen in town this week, and it has been reported from one of the Channel Lake Resorts that business has been better the first four days of this week than it was over the Fourth of July holidays.

Increased Demand

Cottages, it has been revealed, in an incomplete survey, have been increasingly in demand for the past two weeks, and with few exceptions are rented for next weekend if not for the entire week.

There is a general feeling among those in the business, that Chicago people are finding the fair less of an attraction after several visits and therefore are attracted again to the lake region.

Crowds, visiting the Lotus beds last year were estimated at 10,000 persons, and in some sections of the Lotus area, plans are being made for even greater crowds this season.

During the four day festival at Fox Lake, carnival attractions, competitions for which prizes are offered, and entertainment for the children are featured. President Fred Elter of the Chamber of Commerce has stated the primary purpose of the event as being the bringing together of permanent and temporary residents of the section.

Nebraska Man Lauds Antioch Fire Department

How strangers are impressed with the Antioch Volunteer Fire Department equipment, and the business section of the town, was exemplified here this week when Harold E. Zimmerman, fire commissioner of Hastings, Nebraska, stated after an inspection of the local fire department equipment that he regarded it as the best he had ever seen in a town the size of Antioch. In his official capacity, Zimmerman has had a wide experience, and his opinion may be regarded as authoritative. He was also impressed with the Antioch stores and their modern methods of merchandising larger stocks than are usually found in towns twice the size of Antioch.

Mr. Zimmerman is the guest this week of his brother, Dr. John Zimmerman and family.

Fox Lake Pays Last Note on Fire Truck

The village fire truck in Fox Lake is now paid for, authorities in that community announce with pride.

The last note in payment of the truck was turned in at the last board meeting. The pump is of the Peter Pirsh variety and is expected to last for many years.

In recent months the Fox Lake department has extinguished many fires in the village, and has aided nearby towns in putting out fires. The modernized equipment was received.

Simpson To Define Legislation for His Constituents

The following statement was released today by Congressman James Simpson, Jr., representing the tenth District, Illinois:

SIMPSON TO EXPLAIN LEGISLATION TO HIS CONSTITUENTS

Having found it impossible to have personal contact with any appreciable proportion of my 580,000 constituents, I am going to write a short article from time to time on the major legislative enactments of the 73rd Congress, attempting to explain the apparent reactions to the policies involved. I shall endeavor to be impartial regardless of how my own vote was cast.

I feel in the position of a steward reporting to my employers, and it is through the courtesy of the press that I am afforded this opportunity, and I want to publicly express my appreciation for this privilege here.

During the last session we have in many instances embarked, as far as the United States is concerned, upon uncharted seas, through control of production, safeguarding wages, new and more stringent demands for honesty, both apparent and inherent in our banks, as well as attempting to rejuvenate a sick financial situation through the application of artificial stimulants in the form of huge public expenditures. Whether this form of government can exist with this new conception of the function of a Federal Government, which is to control practically everything instead of getting the government out of business, remains to be seen, and I know of no subject that can be nearer to heart or mind of the American people.

I feel that the next ninety days are the most important in the history of America, and while some of these new policies are already in operation, my views will be those that were gained during the enactment of the various laws, and as such will, I hope, be of interest to the readers.

Rosing Again Takes Over Ford Garage

Was Proprietor 7 Years Ago; to Continue Old Policy

Ownership and management of the Ford Garage, formerly known as the Antioch Sales and Service Garage, was taken over last Friday by William A. Rosing, who operated this business in that same location, the building which now also houses the National Tea Store, seven years ago.

Operation will be resumed under the same policy as the garage was conducted in the twelve years of his previous ownership, according to Mr. Rosing. Adolph Pesat and Walter Solter will be placed in charge of the shop, with Laurel Powles continuing in charge of the office work. Repair work of all kinds will be done in conjunction with the sales department which will handle Ford cars.

Mr. Rosing bought the garage equipment and supplies following the sheriff's sale held last Friday afternoon. The sale was held to satisfy a judgment held by Mr. Rosing. He will continue his ownership and management of the Antioch Oil Company.

'Hold Your Man' Rough, Rowdy and Romantic— Harlow and Gable Great

Kenosha Theatre Offers Super-Attraction for Four Days Starting Sunday

The reunion of Jean Harlow and Clark Gable in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's answer to the exhibitor's prayer.

Ever since the smashing success of their romantic teamwork in "Red Dust," it was inevitable that Miss Harlow and Gable should play a return engagement on the screen. And now, after seeing "Hold Your Man," at the Kenosha Theatre, where it is appearing for a four-day run starting Sunday, it is this reviewer's opinion that the demand will be further extended.

Whatever it takes to put romance on the screen, Harlow and Gable have it. More dramatic than most stories on this order, the new picture nevertheless packs warm interludes bound to keep the matinee seats full so long as the film shows. There is no doubt that this pair are the most popular lovers on the screen today.

BUSCHMAN FUNERAL TO BE HELD FRIDAY

Albert Buschman Dies Monday at Louisville Hospital

Albert Henry Buschman, 41 years old, a son of Mrs. Conrad Buschman, died Monday morning at a hospital in Louisville, Ky., of typhoid fever. Funeral services will be held in Antioch tomorrow (Friday) afternoon.

Mr. Buschman visited his home during the Fourth of July holidays, and at that time appeared in excellent health. His death followed an illness of ten days.

Born at Leas, Ill., in Du Page county, he took up the work of construction engineering, later, which was the work in which he was engaged at the time of his death. He had lived in Louisville the past two years. During the past fifteen years, because of the nature of his work, he had been temporarily located in a number of towns.

Mr. Buschman was married but had no children. His wife, Josephine Buschman; his mother, a brother, Arnold Buschman of Twin Lakes, and four sisters, Miss Melinda Buschman of Antioch, Mrs. Esther Bennett of Waukegan, Mrs. Amanda Bowe of Lamont and Mrs. Alice Anderson of Hinsdale, survive him.

No definite arrangements as to the time and place of the funeral have been made at this time.

Accident, Verdict Reached in Death at Lake Catherine

The fatal shot fired by Mrs. Evelyn Hill, into her own body last Friday at the Lake Catherine cottage where she was vacationing with her husband, was pronounced accidental by the coroner's jury last Saturday night.

Testimony given by Dr. W. W. Warriner, State's Attorney, Chas. E. Mason and Clarence Hill, her husband.

The couple, whose home is at 156 West North Avenue, Chicago, had arrived at the lake that day for a vacation. They were reading when the young woman rose to find a cigarette. She was examining a 10 gauge shot gun when the shot was fired which tore away part of her shoulder. She died the following morning at the Victory Memorial Hospital, Waukegan. The young woman was 22 years old.

The husband, 24 years old, declared that there could be no motive for suicide for she had not appeared depressed and had no particular worries at the time.

ROY L. MURRIE,
Village Clerk

Fox Lake Makes Drive Against Car Delinquents

Mrs. Riggs of the Fox Lake village board has announced that he has names of twenty citizens who have been delinquent in buying 1933 vehicle tags and who will be arrested soon if they do not comply with regulations.

Riggs has been campaigning to secure payment of overdue license fees for some time. The twenty he listed comprise those who have ignored his final warnings.

Village Dads Kept Busy by New Laws

Tax Levy and Dumping Rulings Made by Last State Legislature

Because the state legislature has been passing so many laws, it will be necessary for the village board of trustees to hold a special meeting next Monday night to pass the tax levy ordinance, according to Clerk Roy L. Murrie.

In other years the village has been allowed until September to get the ordinance in the office of the County clerk, but this year, according to a law recently passed, the ordinance must be received by that office not later than August 1.

A law, prohibiting the dumping of garbage and refuse within one mile of the corporate limits of any city or village, passed by the last legislature, will also require action on the part of the Antioch board.

According to Mr. Murrie, residents have been dumping garbage on Naber Field within a short distance of the limits. The village property used as a dumping ground until recently, was cleaned up several weeks ago and dumping there prohibited because of the unsightliness of the place which is visible from the depot and passing trains.

Fox Lake C. of C. Re-elects Officers at Annual Meeting

All officers of the active Fox Lake Chamber of Commerce, headed by Fred Elter as president, were re-elected last weekend at the annual election meeting held following a dinner at the Hotel Helvetia in that community.

Other officers named to serve the Chamber and spread the news of Fox Lake's advantages far and wide include the following:

President, Fred Elter; vice president, Fred Jensen; secretary, Austin Schraudenbach; treasurer, Max Eggers.

Board of Directors, Dr. Highgate, Harold Watts, William Nagel, Joseph Kosko and John Pike.

The chamber will continue its policy of erecting signs all over the Lake County district, to direct motorists to the famous Lotus beds which will bloom this week.

The Chamber will also sponsor a community dance in Fox Lake next month, Elter announced.

Reports That Fowler Is Bank Liquidator Denied Yesterday

Reports that Frank T. Fowler, well known business man in Lake County, has been appointed liquidator for the Libertyville Trust and Savings Bank, were denied today by a member of the staff of William O'Connell, general receiver for a number of northern Illinois banks.

Announcement that he had been appointed liquidator was made by Fowler himself, Tuesday. Following the denial of his appointment, Wednesday, he returned from Libertyville to Waukegan, but refused to be interviewed.

Rumors that Fowler had been appointed, but the appointment later rescinded because of pressure brought to bear by local political powers, were also denied. No statement regarding the matter had been issued from State Auditor Barrett's office this morning.

Lehmann Guarded from Kidnappers

Believed to Be on List of Potential Victims of Ring

Otto Lehmann, owner of an extensive estate at Lake Villa and a son of the founder of the Fair store in Chicago, and John Hertz, capitalist, who lives on an estate near Cary on the Fox river, are being guarded by 24 state highway police for fear of kidnapping, it was revealed last Saturday.

The state highway police are working in shifts.

There are close to 40 wealthy men being guarded, it was reported, but only a few names were available.

The 40 victims are slated by gangsters to follow the course of Jake "The Barber" Factor, kidnapped and held two weeks and forced to pay a ransom of $50,000, according to reports.

Factor is reputed to have told authorities in Chicago that the men who held him had a list of victims.

"This is our business," Factor quoted the kidnappers as saying, "and it is a good one. We have it down to a science and are making good money. The papers never hear of most of our 'saniches' because we impress them (the victims) it isn't healthy to talk."

Chicago police are looking for a number of known hoodlums and gangsters in hopes of breaking up the kidnapping ring.

It is believed that a number of wealthy Lake Forest residents are on the list of victims to be kidnapped for ransom.

PROGRESS AND SECURITY

Continual change, new developments, the building and tearing down of the old, are required in the successful and progressive life of a business and of the community. Since the opening of the season, numerous such changes have taken place in the business enterprises of the village. Some have been slight changes in methods, others have been complete changes of policy. These appearances of new sprouts, are the certain sign that life still flows through the enterprise.

Coherent and continuous plans for development in the future alone will lead to the expansion and added security of a business from year to year. The materialization of plans to be efficient must be carried on, not only at the opening of the season, or the beginning of a year, but throughout that time, gradually from day to day, until the general outline begins to conform to the ideal.

Inefficiencies and inadequacies unless reformed when they are revealed, when tolerated, take on the shallow disguise of innocuousness. Business to be permanent in the end, must be impermanent in everyday details.

YESTERDAY IS DEAD

You young fellows just out of school. You have had a tough time the last two years. You were anxious to get to work. Nothing opened up. You felt you were butting your head against a stone wall.

The Star passes on to you a phrase it saw the other day—to you and to the others who joined your ranks this spring.

That phrase is, Yesterday is Dead!

The country has been bogged down before. It is going to pull out shortly, just as it always has pulled out. But mark this. Business is not coming back just as it was before. It never does, after going through the wringer.

A lot of the old leaders and old methods have passed out. A new bunch of aggressive and resourceful young fellows came storming up to grasp new opportunities.

For yesterday is dead!

New opportunities, mind you. Not the opportunities of the last decade. Those are gone. If experience is a guide, recovery will not come in orderly fashion, along the old lines. Keen men will see business chances here and there even while things are at a low level. Chances that grow out of the depression with its changed demands.

Perhaps these will lie in new products of science, in inexpensive novelties, in house cooling, in cheap farm lands. Men who live in the past will overlook these opportunities. They will be thinking of things as they were in 1929. So they will fail to see the new conditions and take advantage of them.

But the alert young crowd will jump at the new chances develop them build up with them as business builds up.

Yesterday is dead!

Have you heard of the flu-flu bird that flies backwards? It wants to see where it has been. It doesn't give a darn where it is going. Don't be a flu-flu bird. You youngsters seize any decent job that offers. But keep your eyes open. Be ready for new conditions, new ideas. Your humble job may have possibilities that the old order did not reveal.

Remember Yesterday is Dead.—Kansas City Star.

MARKET NEWS SERVICE

Several weeks ago it was announced that for reasons of economy the market and price reporting service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture would be discontinued July 1. As a result of protests from farmers and farm organizations that order has been modified. The market news service will be retained for livestock and produce where it is particularly needed. Without it, it would be very difficult to get honest price quotations. It was this situation that led to the establishment of the government price reporting service some years ago. It would have been a great mistake to go back to the old conditions, with farmers in ignorance as to the actual prices at which livestock and produce were changing hands.—Prairie Farmer.

NATIVE APATHY

The blossoming of the Lotus beds in this section, because of its commercial aspect, leaves the native observer slightly dulled to this marvel of nature. Claims and counterclaims as to the exact genus of the flowers can neither increase nor detract from the loveliness of the blossoms, but the yearly harangue has left the listeners insensible of the rarity of the flowers.

As a drawing card for sightseers, the lotus have been an asset throughout this locality for many years, attracting the curious, the student of nature, the traveler and the lover of beauty. The beauty of the beds in full bloom, the delicacy of the exotic blossom, the association of the flower with the ancient culture of Egypt and China, have been advertised far and wide to bring visitors to Grass and Fox Lakes.

But in the midst of the exploitation of the beds, there has been an apathy on the part of us who live in this locality and are therefore privileged to view the beds each year. If an actual census could be taken of the population which has not seen the lotus beds in full glory, the percentage undoubtedly would be surprising. It is a curious twist of human nature that the marvels nearby, to be viewed effortlessly, will awaken scarcely a spark of interest, while those which are distant, will win curiosity to be satisfied even at the cost of personal strivings and sacrifice.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Life" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 16. The Golden Text was, "This is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent" (John 17:3).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life" (John 5:24).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Let us feel the divine energy of Spirit, bringing its late newness of life and revealing no mortal nor material power as able to destroy. Life is, like Christ, 'the same yesterday, and today, and forever'" (p. 249).

WISCONSIN LAWS REGULATE GREAT SPORT OF FISHING

SIZE OF CATCH AND NUMBER IS LIMITED BY STATE

Out-of-State Anglers Must Buy Coupons to Ship Fish

7 DAYS MUST ELAPSE BETWEEN SHIPMENTS

Fishing, one of the greatest sports to be plied in Wisconsin, for which the Twin Lakes area offers ideal advantages, is regulated by a number of laws enforced by the state conservation commission, with which many non-resident fishermen are not familiar.

Regulations governing the size of catches to be made in a day, the minimum size of a fish to be taken from the water, and the period constituting these laws with other restrictions including "open water" are made in placed upon the fisherman.

Large and small mouth black bass, one of the most popular fish in this section, may be taken in quantities not exceeding ten a day, with none of the fish less than ten inches in length, according to the laws.

Pickercil are also limited to ten each day, with a minimum length of 16 inches. Perch and sunfish may be taken in strings of 25 a day, and no limit is placed on the length of the fish taken.

25 FOR OTHER BASS

White bass, strawberry bass, calico bass, silver bass, crappie and rock bass may be taken in 25 a day catches in which the fish all measure seven inches or more. Trout of any variety except lake trout may be taken in quantities of 15 each day in 7 inch and over sizes.

Seasons on these fish open from May 1 to July 1. Open season on black bass starts June 20, on white and other types of bass, May 25, on pickercil, May 25, on pike May 5, on trout, May 1, and these seasons, except in the case of trout, extend until March 1. Open season is a year around period on perch and sunfish.

Roosters Target of Campaign for High Quality Eggs

A loss of five million dollars annually which spoiled eggs are estimated to be causing Illinois farmers could be materially reduced if all poultrymen in the state followed the lead of White county farmers in getting rid of surplus roosters, according to H. H. Alp, poultry extension specialist of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

A total of 1,387 roosters weighing 8,619 pounds—more than four tons—were rounded up off White county farms and sold during a recent "rooster day" staged by Farm Adviser C. W. Simpson as part of the College's campaign for quality Illinois eggs. Bringing 5 1/2 cents a pound net, the roosters put almost $475 cash into the pockets of farmers. A crowd of 3,500 people attended the "rooster day" event and sale.

Roosters Offenders
Roosters are one of the chief offenders in causing egg spoilage, because the germ in fertile eggs will begin to develop in warm weather without the eggs being put under a hen or in an incubator, Alp explained. Not only roosters but also other causes of poor quality eggs should be guarded against, because the golden-yolked, middle-west eggs will bring a premium price on the market if producers will give them proper care and handling prior to selling, Alp said.

Suggestions

His suggestions are:
"Feed a balanced ration and limit the feeding to that ration."

"Gather eggs twice daily."

"Keep the eggs in a cool, moderately dry place cooler than 80 degrees Fahrenheit."

"Cool eggs before placing them in the case."

"Eliminate dirty eggs by providing a nest for every six hens, by keeping the flock confined to the house until noon on days when it is wet outside, by keeping all broody hens off the nests and by keeping the house clean."

"Protect eggs from heat and sun when marketing them."

"Market eggs twice a week."

"Sort eggs according to size and color of shell."

"Sell to dealers properly equipped to handle eggs."

Prohibited methods of fishing in the state are:

Netting, except in certain waters, not included in this area, where dip nets, not exceeding eight feet in diameter with meshes of not less than three inches may be used.

Hook and Line fishing with more than five lines with one hook to a line, or with more than three lines with two hooks to a line or with any line equipped with more than two hooks or one trolling spoon or artificial bait, or with any fish, line or lines and hooks left in the water unattended.

Spearing at night in any waters, or spearing during the day at any time in non-navigable waters containing trout, or during the close season for trout in navigable waters containing trout.

Snag line or cluster fish hooks which might be drawn through the water for the purpose of catching or drawing such hooks into the bodies of fish. Violations of this law are punishable by a fine not exceeding $200 and imprisonment not exceeding nine months.

NETTING MINNOWS LIMITED

Netting minnows is limited to operation of minnow seines, not exceeding forty feet in length and five feet in depth and nets not exceeding six feet in diameter in inland waters for taking bait minnows only. In streams or waters which are inhabited by trout or in which trout have been planted even this has been prohibited.

Closed season on frogs is ruled in the conservation laws of the state except during the period from July 1 to March 1. The same season applies to crawfish.

Non-resident fishermen in the state are required to pay $3 for a license to fish, and in case they wish to ship fish out, they can obtain three shipping coupons for $2. License buttons are issued with the licenses and are to be worn and the license carried ready to display.

Up North

Texas is such a big state that it's a real trip from one part of it to another. A man from Brownsville, on the southern edge, was gone quite a time away from home and when he got back a neighbor inquired where he had been.

He replied: "I been on a trip North."

"Where did you go?" the friend asked.

"I went to Dallas."

"Have a good time?"

"Now, I never did like them Yankees."

Brass Ball Tavern Changes in Four Score Years, But Interest Continues in Successor to Inn of Traditions

Travelers of four score years ago, were they to return and travel that ancient plank road from Kenosha to Lake Geneva, would halt in amazement at the Brass Ball Tavern, which often sheltered parties of twenty-five in the old days, for the building which stands near the old site and serves the public under the same name, is too resplendently white, to have withstood eighty years of changing weathers.

And it is more than the building that has changed in those years. Travelers still find refreshments there at the corner marked by the Brass Ball, but they come speeding in on highways 83 and 50 from distances thrice the length from end to end of the old road from Kenosha to Lake Geneva. The old wine cruet no longer stands on the bar and even the Brass Ball, which marks the site of the tavern and the corners, has changed with the years.

BUILT BY HUNTOON

Eighty years ago Seth Huntoon built that first tavern across the road from the present site, and it is believed, placed the first brass ball conspicuously above the road where the traveler would readily see it. The origin and exact history of that first brass ball, in eighty years has been delegated to oblivion. Reports that it was brought from England and was the same ball which marked the site of the original English tavern are discredited by Mrs. Clara Hartnell, step-daughter of Seth Huntoon.

The site of the old tavern is now the farm of Roger Huntoon, grandson of the old innkeeper, who can point out the old tavern barn, and part of the building itself which are now in use. He has one of the sixteen foot thick planks of which the old road was made, and a wine cruet from the bar of the early tavern in his possession as relics of that early day.

According to Mrs. Hartnell, travelers in that day, came bringing grain to the lake front where it could be shipped. Often parties of twenty-five would spend the night at the Brass Ball lodging house which was spacious and ready to accommodate parties of that size.

HAD A BAR

The rooms in the story and a half building were heated with stoves. Wood was plentiful in those days, Mrs. Hartnell recalls. A bar was part of the ground floor plan in the early tavern. There wine and beer were sold. Just when the tavern was torn down, is not exactly known. A store which was built fifteen years later, and stood near the tavern, burned many years ago. A blacksmith shop, another landmark, was torn down this past week.

However, all interest in the Brass Ball corners did not die with the disappearance of the old tavern. Since that time, the present business, located in an attractive building constructed along the lines of English countryside architecture, has been an attraction to travelers and curiosity seekers from a distance as well as those close by. The Tavern, now run under the efficient management of Jack Thompson, is better equipped to serve meals to the constant stream of patrons, than was the old inn.

The building owned by Peter Galis, has the advantage of seclusion from more thickly traveled thoroughfares, coupled with the attraction of a cool, attractive dining room, a well equipped bar, and the atmosphere of tradition.

The present brass ball which hangs in the center of the intersection of the two highways, was brought to Roger Huntoon from Florida. Originally it was an aluminum mine buoy picked up along the coast. Before hanging it up, the Huntoons had it gilded to resemble brass.

Give World's Fair Homes SpaciousnessNew Luxury is Found in Homes of Moderate
Price Scale

Two definite trends in interior decoration are apparent in the modern homes exhibited at the Century of Progress Exposition where conservative modernistic furnishings and clever compactness are demonstrated with superb artistry. The more apparent is the use of white and pale tints with rich reds and blues for contrast in the color schemes. The second trend is toward metallic touches to set off the other colors in a room.

The effect of these trends is an atmosphere of airiness and grace and luxury seldom found in homes in this price range which scales from $5000 to $9000 and up for the construction and from $2,200 to $5,000 and up for the furnishings. The homes, in other words, are intended to appeal to the family with a more or less average income.

White has an indescribable influence in giving a room light, spaciousness and serenity. It is used in the wall-paper, in lamp shades, in crystal and pottery touches, in rugs and in the upholstery of the furniture itself. To many housewives, white chairs and davenport will seem too impractical for consideration, and it must be admitted that it is difficult to understand just how such furniture may be kept spotless unless it is covered, which after all, destroys the effect. But use of white in other decorative touches is entirely practical for any home.

Artificial Flowers
Artificial flowers, used profusely, in these homes at the fair, and also most effectively, carry out the white note in many of the rooms. White magnolias, and other white flowers, artificial or not, are decidedly graceful gestures and when they have been arranged and placed to do their utmost, the result is an almost breath-taking perfection.

White wallpaper is not entirely impractical, and after seeing the paper in one of the homes, which has on it a large elde crayon or charcoal sketch, any woman who is thinking of re-decorating will be tempted to place her choice there.

The use of white and drapes, in cushions, in lovely vases filled with bright flowers, in chalk white lamp shades and bases, can be adapted to any home. But in using white, bear in mind, that its effectiveness is gained through profusion and in contrast with brighter shades.

A room which is papered or painted in light colors, may be given marine blue or crimson drapes, with harmonizing or contrasting furniture, and the rest of the room carried out in white with artistic results. Or the drapes may be only slightly darker than the walls, blending with the deep rich tones in the furniture. White drapes may also be used if there is considerable color in the decoration of the walls.

Will Give Unity
The amateur decorator will, at first, be inclined to use white sparingly which will defeat her purpose. White flowers, white lamp shades, white ornaments, white cushions, flower prints, against white backgrounds for pictures, are not too much white for any room which can be adapted to this type of decoration. The furniture in such a room should be extremely light, in which case the drapes will probably be the gay touch, or it must be extremely colorful. The white theme may be used throughout an entire house without sameness, giving unity to the decoration of the home.

Metallic touches are found in most of these homes, chromium fireplaces, pewter and silver lamp bases and shades, gold trimmings on the furniture, in ornaments, wherever it may add to the room and bring out new charm.

The result of pewter and silver in a room which is white with bright dainty color adds a fascinating, frosted touch which is interestingly new. The effect of such a room in summer is soothingly cool. But it may also have warmth in winter with the colors reflected in the silver.

The use of gold for accent in a bedroom, in one of the homes, is impressive and distinctive. Gold stars ornament the beds and the dressing table and other white furniture in the room giving a French Directoire period touch.

Carrying on
Gold etching on colored glass, pewter, ashtrays, and similar novelties carry on the metallic trend in the furnishings.

A word as to woodwork will be interesting to those who are planning to build or remodel their homes. Woodwork was conspicuous by its

Chic Chatter

Satin, especially brilliant black satin, has sailed onto the style horizon in the guise of clever pre-fall hats and gowns, and is already being worn. The hats are close-fitting and small, much like the close fitting hats of this summer.

Satin, has sailed onto the style horizon of this summer. Satin is being worn in accessories, shoes, gloves, purses, and colors coming in the fabric.

The popularity of the pique coat and jacket increases with the onward swing of summer. Pique accessories are also being increasingly worn with both light and dark costumes.

Half way jackets seem to be replacing the three quarter length, the navy silk suits being shown having hip length jackets.

Shoulders will remain broad and swaggering through the winter if the early fall predictions are to be taken seriously. Touches of orpandy and net, in bouffant sleeves and feminine collars, will be seen on the dark gowns.

For the young girl's vacation, eersucker shorts with shirt to match are the last word. Mesh and linen sandals with light soles, which are being sold at low prices in many styles, are ideal for wear in the country, on the beach, and for wear around the house.

Appropos of summer, which is still very much the season of the present, one of the smartest bathing suits of the year is made of silk jersey in a black diagonal plaid pattern which is unbelievably smart.

The shirtwaist dress, pronounced a fashion favorite earlier this spring, is being copied in every possible material with great success. Candy crepe, pique or seersucker in this type of dress will be a convenient item in any wardrobe whether of an active sportswoman or merely a spectator.

White linen with either brown, blue or black accessories is the smartest costume which has come out of this summer's bag of styles. A white linen suit with a blouse of royal blue, hat and purse to match the blouse, and gloves and shoes to match the suit, can't be outdone in smartness.

Organdy ruffles on the shoulders add softness and follow the lines of the season on pajamas and gowns of blue and pale rose crepe. Flowered dimity gowns are attractive, cool and inexpensive for summer wear.

Many Clever Gifts May Be Made by Woman Who Keeps Busy in Vacation

For the woman who enjoys doing fancy work or crocheting during the vacation months, there are a number of smart articles which she will enjoy the remainder of the year, or which will be enjoyed by a friend. One, the large crash or monkhead shopping bag, will be appreciated by any woman who likes to carry her sewing with her or who is accustomed to carrying many articles.

A string belt which is an easy article to make will be enjoyed particularly by the young girl who has a flair for sports clothes. String purses, and berets are also smart articles.

For winter gifts, needlepoint purses, bright knitted gloves or mittens, smart collar and cuff sets in tailored or beruffled styles, and linens may be made.

absence in these model homes, where the doors and windows seem cut out of the papered walls. Even doors in some of these homes were covered with paper, although this seems inadvisable in a home where there are children for a door receives a large share of handling and showing from small hands which are not always clean.

The effect of this lack of woodwork is really attractive. The windows in these homes have practically no ledge. In one case, the narrow ruffled drape at the window was firmly tacked to the wall, not only across the top, but all the way down.

There are several bagsful of new tricks in these homes, ingenious, artistic, practical tricks which will interest any woman who is interested in her home and other homes.

Ice Cubes Frozen of Fruit Juices and Ice
Tea Are Suggestions

Ice cubes frozen of fruit juices or beverages in place of water are an ingenious suggestion made by a recent magazine specializing in home and house problems. Cubes frozen of ice tea, the article sensibly suggests, will not melt and make the tea watery. Cubes frozen of ginger ale in grape juice, will offer contrast and add flavor to the drink as they melt. Undiluted fruit juices, are a suggestion put forth for all types of fruit juices.

Stripes and Plaids Are Popular in New Papers

Flowered wallpapers are being replaced at the present time by stripes and plaids, scenic papers, and plain linens. Striped papers in which a bright pronounced stripe is accented by silvery, almost invisible stripes, all of hairline width, is attractive for a bedroom, or den.

Plaid wallpapers are attractive wall coverings for bedrooms, sunrooms, breakfast nooks, and sometimes the dining room. A plaid which is too pronounced will have a tendency to make the small room look smaller. Pictures with a large space of white background are best on this type of wall.

The scenic papers are effective in living room, dining room, and often, the bedroom. Linen papers, in light colors, have a luxuriant texture.

Toothbrush, Soap and Talcum Helpful in Keeping Shoes Clean

An old toothbrush and a mild soap used with lukewarm water will clean light kid shoes often when everything else has failed. However, it is best not to use this method on new shoes. After scrubbing the shoes, add polish, and after the polish has dried, add talcum powder so as to keep the polish from leaving a sticky finish to which dirt will cling.

ON AN

YOUR SOAP costs ABOUT 5¢
YOUR POWER costs 3¢

THERE'S a washday bargain you may not fully realize because it isn't usually price-tagged. It's the electricity you use to run your washing machine. The power that swishes all the dirt out of clothes in the tub and wrings them out for the line costs just a fraction over a penny an hour in the average northern Illinois home. Less than 3 cents' worth of electricity takes all the hard work out of washday.

PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY

Electric washers have never been priced so low as your Public Service Store and other local dealers.

Sheehan, on the mound for Antioch, allowed the Lakes but two hits, neither of which were turned into runs, while the locals pounded Tonyann for four biggies which netted four markers. Brilliant fielding on both sides many times turned what looked to be safe hits into outs. Sheehan passed four men on balls, and Tonyann issued three walks. Sheehan forced six Lakes to perish by the strike-out route, while Tonyann whiffed one Antioch batter.
